Adults

Adult Ed—November 8: Creation... Evolution... Design. Can Faith and Science Get Along?

When it comes to the history of the universe, many believe that science and faith are mutually exclusive. But Calvin College physics professors Loren and Deborah Haarsma take a different view. Their recent book--Origins--explores what God's Word and God's world teach us about creation, evolution, and design (you may want to read the book before the session).

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Gerrit and Lauren Visser. They welcomed a new baby boy, Noah Wyatt, on October 16th. He weighed 7 1/2 pounds and measured 21 inches long.

Announcements

Next Sunday

We often describe our spiritual lives in terms of how we are feeling. We feel close to God. We feel far away. Emotion is certainly an important part of the spiritual journey. However, it is not the most important part. Next Sunday we'll look at how our feelings can sabotage our growth and service and explore faith that is not slave to our emotions. We will also hear the profession of faith of Randy Teunis.

This Week's Offering is for Benevolence
