

Dear Friends and Family:

Happy Thanksgiving! The Psalmist writes, "Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good; his love endures forever" (Ps. 118:1). In this world characterized by broken commitments, short attention spans, and a constant pursuit of the "next big thing," isn't it refreshing to serve a God whose love endures forever? God can no more forget his children than he can forget himself or his own purposes. We are loved, cared for, and treasured by the Creator of the universe, the foundation of all that is, was, and will be. If that is not a reason to be thankful this Christmas season, then what is?

Join us in giving thanks for:

- A good beginning for our effort to connect with two Presbyterian missions to share the burden of training Haitian church leaders. Please continue to pray for these efforts.
- The many ways God blessed a visit from a group called Prayer Missions International (this team included Dave Bosch, a member of 2nd CRC of Allendale, one of our supporting churches). The team prayed over us, our Haitian ministry partners, and led our annual Spiritual Retreat.
- Patience and healing during a number of illnesses that our family has endured during the last month.

Join us in praying for:

- A great start for a new church plant in the CRC of Haiti's Ministry Center . The first service will be held Sunday, November 29.
- Continued success for the Bwa Kayiman church construction project in Belladere. God has raised up plenty of volunteers to move the project forward.
- The generosity of God's people over the holidays in supporting special projects that must be funded by January (please see the attached newsletter for more info).
- Healing for our daughter Vivian who continues to suffer from urinary tract infections and currently has the flu.

PLEASE SEE OUR DECEMBER NEWSLETTER ATTACHED TO THIS E-MAIL.

Thanks for your prayers and support,
